A SUMMARY OF HOUSE BILL 4096 AS INTRODUCED 2-7-89

Under the Worker's Disability Compensation Act, an insurer issuing worker's compensation insurance must insure all the enterprises and activities of an employer in a single policy. However, a separate policy may be issued for work at a construction site under certain conditions, including that the cost of construction at the site would exceed $100 million. The bill would amend the act to decrease the threshold for a separate construction site policy to $20 million.
