5. "Saving Paradise". The House includes a new section (not included by the Senate) that would ensure a minimum level of funding to small, rural, and Upper Peninsula or island districts that are not near other schools or accessible by a bridge. The conference report concurs with the Senate on the "fair notice" language, but does not include the House's formula change. (Sec. 24)
7. ISD Early Childhood Programs. The House includes numerous changes to Sec. 32j, including earmarking funds from Sec. 81 rather than a stand-alone appropriation; changing grant application to program plan, including promotion of marriage in the delivery of the program, and allowing ISDs to supplant State funds for this program with local or private funds, as long as the minimum level of funding is at least what was received for this program in FY 2003-04. The conference report concurs with the House. (Sec. 32j)
