Whereas, During World War II, the Jefferys worked in Washington as consultants to the War Labor Board and befriended Walter and Victor Reuther, who had helped form the United Auto Workers in 1935; and

Whereas, The couple moved to Detroit in 1944 when Victor Reuther offered Jeffery a job as director of the newly formed UAW Women's Bureau. Jeffery was the first woman to head a United Auto Workers department and worked for 30 years behind the scenes in state and national Democratic politics. Jeffery worked for the union until her retirement in 1976; and

Whereas, In the 1940s, Jeffery joined the NAACP and helped organize Americans for Democratic Action; and

Whereas, In the 1960s, Jeffery marched with Martin Luther King Jr., James Meredith, and other activists in the Deep South; and

Whereas, Jeffery managed Robert F. Kennedy's 1968 presidential campaign in Michigan and was active in helping Geraldine Ferraro win the vice presidential nomination on the 1984 democratic ticket; and
