House Resolution No. 26.

A resolution to direct the Department of Education and the Family Independence Agency to convene a task force to develop quality after-school programs for all Michigan children.

Whereas, Current studies about what happens to unsupervised children indicate that, when left alone, these children have higher absentee rates at school; have lower academic test scores; exhibit higher levels of fear, stress, nightmares, loneliness, and boredom; are 1.7 times more likely to use alcohol; and are 1.6 times more likely to smoke cigarettes; and

Whereas, Recent data shows that in communities around this state, the violent juvenile crime rate soars in the hours immediately after the school bell rings, and children are most likely to be victims of a violent crime committed by a non-family member between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m.; and

Whereas, Research indicates that children who attend high quality after-school programs have better peer relations, emotional adjustment, conflict resolution skills, grades, and conduct in school compared to their peers who are not in after-school programs; and

Whereas, Children who attend after-school programs spend more time in learning opportunities, academic activities, and enrichment activities and spend less time watching television than their peers; and

Whereas, In one study, children who attended an after-school program missed fewer days of school, had better homework completion rates, better school behavior, and higher test scores; and

Whereas, Polls show that 92% of Americans believe there should be organized activities for children and teens during after-school hours; and

Whereas, As working parents can attest, child care concerns are not over once children are old enough to go to school. A parent who is employed full time can be away from home an average of 2,400 hours a year. Children spend less than half of that time in school. If their children participate in a quality school-age care program or another organized out-of-school-time activity, parents can rest easy because they know that their children are safe and supervised; now, therefore, be it
