Overview

The Department of History, Arts, and Libraries is divided into five major spending areas: Library of Michigan, Michigan Historical Program, Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs, Mackinac Island State Park Commission, and department operations. The Library of Michigan provides resources and reference services to the public and to the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial branches of state government. The Michigan Historical Program oversees the historical museum system, archives of Michigan, State Records Center, State Historic Preservation Office, Office of the State Archaeologist, historical publications, and lighthouse preservation activities. The Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs administers arts and cultural grants for non-profit organizations. The Mackinac Island State Park Commission oversees operational activities and preservation of historical resources at Mackinac Island, Michilimackinac, and Mill Creek state parks.
