A SUMMARY OF HOUSE BILLS 5575-5579 AS INTRODUCED 11-5-09

The bills would amend various acts to create new crimes regarding human trafficking, include human trafficking as a predicate offense for a crime of racketeering, and require persons convicted of a human trafficking offense to pay restitution to victims.

The package is virtually identical to House Bills 4914-4918 of the 2007-2008 legislative session. Those bills were passed by the House but failed to see Senate action.

House Bill 5575 is tie-barred to House Bill 5579, and House Bills 5576-5578 are tie-barred to House Bill 5575. Specifically, the bills would do the following:

House Bill 5575

The bill would add a new section to Chapter 67A (Human Trafficking) of the Michigan Penal Code (MCL 750.462j) to prohibit two additional actions as crimes of human trafficking, establish penalties, require restitution to a victim by a person convicted under the bill, and define terms. Under the bill, a person would be prohibited from:

- Knowingly providing or obtaining the labor or services of another person by force, fraud, or coercion. "Force" would include, but not be limited to, physical violence or actual physical restraint or confinement, but injury would be required. "Fraud" would include a false or deceptive offer of employment or marriage. "Coercion" would include, but not be limited to, threats of harm or physical restraint or schemes intended to cause a person to believe that failure to perform an act would result in harm to or physical restraint against any person; confiscation of documents regardless of whether the documents were fraudulent or fraudulently obtained; and the abuse or threatened abuse of the legal system (including threats of arrest or deportation).

- Knowingly recruiting, harboring, transporting, providing, or obtaining a person for labor or services for the purpose of holding that person in involuntary servitude or debt bondage. "Debt bondage" would include, but not be limited to, the status or condition of a debtor arising from a pledge by the debtor of his or her personal services or of those of a person under his or her control as a security for a debt, if the value of those services as reasonably assessed were not applied toward the liquidation of the debt or the length and nature of those services were not respectively limited and defined. "Involuntary servitude" would include a state of providing labor or services entered into or maintained by means of force, fraud, or coercion.

Both of the violations described above would be a felony punishable by up to 10 years' imprisonment and/or a fine of not more than $10,000.

If the violation involved the forced labor or trafficking of a minor (under 18 years of age), a commercial sex act, or serious physical harm to any person, the violation would be punishable by imprisonment of up to 20 years and/or a fine of not more than $20,000.

A "commercial sex act" would mean any act of sexual penetration or sexual contact or any sexually explicit performance for which anything of value was given to, or was received by, any person or a violation involving any child in sexually abusive activity or material. "Serious physical harm" would be defined to mean any physical injury that seriously impaired a person's health or physical well-being, including (but not limited to) brain damage, skull or bone fracture, subdural hemorrhage or hematoma, a dislocation or sprain, internal injury, poisoning, a burn or scald, or a severe cut.

If the violation involved death, the maximum term would be imprisonment for life or any terms of years and/or a fine of not more than $50,000.

The bill would not prohibit a person from being charged with, convicted of, or punished for any other violation of law arising out of the same transaction as the violation of the bill. A sentence could be ordered to be served consecutively to (instead of concurrently with) a term of imprisonment imposed for the commission of any other crime, including one arising out of the same transaction as the violation of the bill.

Further, a court would have to order a person convicted of violating the bill to pay restitution to the victim under provisions that would be established by House Bill 5579. The person would also have to be ordered to reimburse any governmental entity for its expenses incurred as a result of the violation, in the manner provided in Section 1f of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

House Bill 5576

The bill would amend the Code of Criminal Procedure (MCL 777.16w) to include the violations proposed by House Bill 4914 in the sentencing guidelines as follows:

Violation	Felony Class & Category	Statutory Maximum Sentence
Providing, or obtaining, labor or services of another person by force, fraud, or coercion	D - Person	10 years
Providing, or obtaining, labor or services of minor by force, fraud, or coercion	B - Person	20 years
Providing, or obtaining, labor or services of another person by force, fraud, or coercion causing death	A - Person	Life
Recruiting or transporting person for labor or services	D - Person	10 years
Recruiting or transporting minor for labor or services	B - Person	20 years
Recruiting or transporting person for labor or services causing death	A- Person	Life

House Bill 5577

The bill would amend Chapter 25A of the Michigan Penal Code, entitled "Criminal Enterprises" (MCL 750.159g). Under the code, racketeering is defined as committing, attempting to commit, conspiring to commit, or aiding or abetting, soliciting, coercing, or intimidating a person to commit an offense for financial gain that includes any of the listed criminal acts. The bill would amend this list to include a violation of Chapter 67A (Human Trafficking).

The bill would also delete a reference to Section 17766a of the Public Health Code concerning androgenic anabolic steroids. The section was repealed by Public Act 236 of 2001 because departmental rules already include certain androgenic anabolic steroids as a Schedule 3 drug and exclude other ones.

House Bill 5578

The bill would amend the Revised Judicature Act (MCL 600.4701). The provision defines "crime" to mean committing, attempting to commit, conspiring to commit, or soliciting another person to commit any of the listed offenses in connection with which the forfeiture of property is sought. The bill would include in the list of offenses a violation of Chapter 67A (Human Trafficking) and Chapter 83A (Terrorism).

House Bill 5579

The bill would add a new section to the William Van Regenmorter Crime Victim's Rights Act (MCL 780.766b) to require a court, when sentencing a defendant convicted of a violation of Chapter 67A of the Michigan Penal Code (Human Trafficking), to order restitution for the full amount of loss suffered by the victim. In addition, the following costs could also be imposed upon the defendant by the court:

- The victim's lost income, calculated as specified in the bill.

- The cost of transportation, temporary housing, and child care expenses incurred by the victim because of the offense.
- Attorney fees and other costs and expenses incurred by the victim because of the offense, including, but not limited to, costs and expenses relating to assisting the investigation of the offense and for attendance at related court proceedings that would include wages lost, child care, transportation, and parking.
- Any other loss suffered by the victim as a proximate result of the offense.

FISCAL IMPACT:

The fiscal impact of House Bills 5575-5577 on state and local correctional systems would depend on how they affected the number and severity of felony sentences. To the extent that more felons were sentenced to prison or were sentenced to prison for longer terms, the bills could increase state costs of prison incarceration; the average appropriated cost per prisoner is approximately $33,000 per year, a figure that includes various fixed administrative and operational costs. To the extent that more offenders were sentenced to probation, the state could incur increased supervision costs; the average annual cost of parole and probation supervision is about $2,000 per supervised offender, exclusive of the cost of any electronic tether or programs. Any increase in jail sentences would be borne by the affected counties; jail costs vary by county. Any increase in penal fine collections could benefit local libraries, which are the constitutionally-designated recipients of such revenues.

House Bill 5578 would have a positive fiscal impact on state and local government as it would expand the forfeiture provision to human trafficking. Any property sold may be used for the payment of restitution, the claims of victims, outstanding liens, and expenses. The balance remaining may then be distributed to the unit or units of government involved in effecting the forfeiture. Seventy-five percent of the money received is to be used to enhance enforcement of the criminal laws and 25 percent of the money to implement the crime victim's rights act.

House Bill 5579 would have an indeterminate fiscal impact on the judicial branch. Any fiscal impact would be the result of increased administrative court costs in calculating and awarding restitution payments to the defendant.
