

Senate Bill 22 (as reported without amendment)

Senate Bill 23 (Substitute S-1 as reported)

Sponsor: Senator Tonya Schuitmaker

Committee: Judiciary

CONTENT

Senate Bill 22 would amend the Uniform Statutory Rule Against Perpetuities to revise an exception to provisions of that law for property subject to the Personal Property Trust Perpetuities Act. Currently, the exception is for an interest in, or power of appointment over, personal property held in a trust that is either revocable on or created after the effective date of that Act. The bill, instead, refers to an interest or power of appointment to which that Act applies.

Senate Bill 23 (S-1) would amend the Personal Property Trust Perpetuities Act to make the Act inapplicable to a trust to the extent it is a special appointee trust.

The Act applies only to a nonvested interest in, or power of appointment over, personal property held in a trust that is either revocable on, or created after, the Act's effective date.

The bill also specifies that the Act would apply only to the extent that the trust is not a special appointee trust. For this purpose, a trust would be a special appointee trust to the extent it includes assets that were held in a trust that was irrevocable on September 25, 1985, if the assets have continuously been held in trust, and have not become subject to a general power of appointment, since that date.
