CONTENT

The bill would add Part 204, the "Medical Good-Faith Provisions Act", to the Public Health Code to require a health facility or agency, upon the request of a patient or resident or prospective patient or resident, to disclose in writing any policies related to a patient or resident, or the services a patient or resident could receive for the use of life-sustaining treatment or denial of nonbeneficial treatment within that facility or agency.

If the patient or resident, or prospective patient or resident, were a minor, the facility or agency would have to give the policies to the person's parent or legal guardian.
