Senate Bill 281 (as introduced 4-16-15)
Sponsor: Senator Tonya Schuitmaker
Committee: Judiciary

Date Completed: 4-23-15

CONTENT

The bill would amend the Revised Judicature Act to allow a bailiff of the 36th district court to be removed from office for inability to perform essential functions of the office.

Under the Act, a person serving as a bailiff of the former common pleas court of Detroit on August 31, 1981, became a bailiff of the 36th district court on September 1, 1981. The Act provides that a bailiff of the 36th district court holds office until death, retirement, resignation, or removal from office by the court for misfeasance or malfeasance in office. A vacancy in the office of bailiff may not be filled. The bill also would allow the court to remove a bailiff from office for inability to perform essential functions of the office.

FISCAL IMPACT

The bill would increase revenue to the 36th district court if a bailiff were removed for inability to perform essential functions. As of the September 30, 2013 (the date of the latest available report), there were three active participants in the retirement plan for bailiffs. The bill would have no fiscal impact on State government.
