CONTENT

Senate Bills 374 through 381 would amend the Public Health Code to refer to "sexually transmitted infection" rather than "venereal disease" in a number of provisions regarding disease prevention and control.

The bills are tie-barred to each other and would take effect 90 days after enactment.

Senate Bill 374 would amend several definitions used in Article 5 (Prevention and Control of Diseases and Disabilities) of the Code.

Senate Bill 375 would amend provisions pertaining to a requirement that the Department of Health and Human Services maintain a list of reportable diseases, infections, and disabilities that designates and classifies these conditions as communicable, serious communicable, chronic, or noncommunicable.

Senate Bill 376 would amend a requirement that a local health department immediately furnish the necessary care for an individual whom the health department knows has a serious communicable disease or infection and is in its jurisdiction.

Senate Bill 377 would amend provisions related to a county clerk's provision of educational materials regarding venereal disease transmission, prevention, and testing to an applicant for a marriage license.

Senate Bill 378 would amend a provision designating as a misdemeanor the unauthorized disclosure of the fact that a marriage license applicant had taken a venereal disease test and/or the results of the test.

The bill also would delete an obsolete provision designating as a misdemeanor a false statement by a physician in a certificate given to a marriage license applicant as documentation that the applicant has received mandatory counseling on venereal disease transmission, prevention, and testing. (Public Act 209 of 2000 eliminated the counseling requirement and instead requires the county clerk to give this information to applicants in written form.)

Senate Bill 379 would amend provisions regarding the testing of pregnant women for venereal disease.

Senate Bill 380 would amend a section providing that consent to the provision of medical or surgical care, treatment, or services executed by a minor who is or professes to be infected with a venereal disease is valid and binding as if the minor had achieved the age of majority.

Senate Bill 381 would amend provisions regarding venereal disease testing, information, reporting, and counseling and treatment referrals for individuals arrested and charged with crimes related to prostitution, solicitation of a child for an immoral purpose, gross indecency, criminal sexual conduct, and illegal intravenous use of a controlled substance.
