Senate Resolution No. 110Senate Resolution No. 111

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

Senators Damoose, Chang, Huizenga, Klinefelt, McMorrow, Cherry, Shink and Nesbitt offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 110.

A resolution to commemorate April 21-27, 2024, as Black April Memorial Week.

Whereas, April 30, 2024, marks the 49th anniversary of the end of the Vietnam War and the start of the eventual exodus of several million Vietnamese out of Vietnam after South Vietnam’s capital of Saigon fell to the communists on April 30, 1975; and

Whereas, For many Vietnam and Vietnam-era veterans who were directly involved in the war, and Vietnamese Americans who have settled in the United States (U.S.), the Vietnam War was a tragedy full of great suffering and the loss of American, Vietnamese, and Southeast Asian lives; and

Whereas, Over 58,000 people were killed and 304,000 were wounded out of the 2.59 million Americans who served in the Vietnam War. One out of every ten Americans who served in Vietnam became a casualty of war; and

Whereas, South Vietnamese armed forces lost 275,000 soldiers and many more were wounded, along with an unknown number of Vietnamese civilian casualties; and

Whereas, During the American evacuation of Saigon, the first wave of 135,000 Vietnamese who were mostly military officers and their families, took temporary shelter through several international refugee camps at Camp Pendleton in San Diego, California, Fort Chaffee in Arkansas, and Indiantown Gap in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Starting in 1977 and lasting through the mid-1980s, a second wave of Vietnamese refugees comprised mostly of “boat people” began leaving Vietnam. Seeing no future under communism, nearly 800,000 boat people risked their lives in small, dangerous boats to travel to resettlement camps in Hong Kong, Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, and the Philippines before eventually resettling in America. The Red Cross estimated that during that time, at least 300,000 Vietnamese died on the high seas while trying to escape communism; and

Whereas, After 1985, a third wave of Vietnamese refugees came to the U.S. under the Orderly Departure Program; and

Whereas, In 1988, Congress passed the Operation Homecoming Act, a program allowing approximately 80,000 Amerasian children (offspring of GI fathers and Vietnamese mothers) to come to America; and

Whereas, By 1990, the fourth wave of Vietnamese refugees began arriving in the U.S. under the Humanitarian Operation, and today, more than 1.7 million Vietnamese immigrants reside in our country; and Whereas, Census data shows that foreign-born Vietnamese entering the U.S. in the 1980s, 1990s, and 2000s have seen an increase in English proficiency, proportion of college graduates, the number of owner-occupied housing, family median income, and naturalization; and

Whereas, Over the years, Vietnamese immigrants have overcome social, economic, and language barriers of unforeseen magnitude to grow and become the most assimilated along civic dimensions out of any large group in America; and

Whereas, Through emphasis on intense study, Vietnamese Americans have reached the pinnacles of American success in a variety of fields including business and entrepreneurship, science and technology, space travel, medicine, the U.S. government, politics, military, professional sports, and, most recently, cultural icon status in cooking, modeling, acting, and comedy; and

Whereas, In order to serve their community and prosper in America, Vietnamese Americans formed well-established and thriving commercial districts throughout the U.S., including an enclave in southeast Oakland County and in west Michigan; and

Whereas, More than 25,276 Vietnamese live in Michigan; and

Whereas, We must teach our children and future generations the important lessons from the Vietnam War, including how the plight of the Vietnamese refugees following the end of war is a powerful example of the values of freedom and democracy; and

Whereas, Refugees and immigrants from the former Republic of Vietnam, who came to the U.S. and settled as free Vietnamese Americans, are honored and remembered for their sacrifices of freedom, human rights, and for their ongoing contributions to our democratic society; and

Whereas, The Vietnamese Heritage and Freedom flag, which is yellow with three horizontal red stripes, is the only symbol that can unite most Vietnamese around the world and bring them together, showing the aspiration for freedom and democracy in their homeland; and

Whereas, Although united in sorrow as they commemorate April 30, 2024, as Black April, an occasion to reflect on the sacrifices of the past, Vietnamese American communities throughout Michigan consider Black April a memorial and remembrance of the resilience of the Vietnamese people; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body commemorate April 21-27, 2024, as Black April Memorial Week. We recognize this special time for Michiganians to honor the tragedy of the suffering and countless lives lost during the Vietnam War era, while also paying tribute to those lives lost by human rights and freedom to the people of Vietnam.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senators Geiss, Webber and Wojno were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

Senators Damoose and Chang asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Damoose's statement, in which Senator Chang concurred, is as follows:

My colleague from the 3rd District and I are proud to introduce a resolution again this year in recognition that 49 years ago this month, the world witnessed an event that will not soon be forgotten—the fall of Saigon and the end of the Vietnam War. As with so many sagas in human history, in the critical month of April 1975 and in the decades to follow, triumphant blessings and horrific tragedies occurred side-by-side in close succession.

This resolution which we introduce today commemorates what has become known as Black April—both a solemn remembrance of hundreds of thousands of people lost during the course of the Vietnam War and the decades of communist oppression that followed. It is a celebration of the lives of countless Vietnamese men, women, and children who rose beyond these tragedies and, through hard work and sacrifice, built a better future for themselves and for their families. It is a joyful tribute to the more than 800,000 so-called “Vietnamese Boat People” who successfully fled their native land in the wake of a bloody war and its oppressive aftermath, and it is a sad acknowledgement of the estimated 200,000 to 300,000 men, women, and children who died while trying to flee. It is about the hundreds of thousands of American and South Vietnamese servicemen and women, and their families, who sacrificed so much in the best tradition of our nation and our allies who fought together to bring freedom to oppressed people throughout the world. And at the same time, it is a grim reminder of the nearly 60,000 Americans who were lost—whose names are now carved into the Vietnam War Memorial in our nation's capital.

Black April is a recognition of this very dark time in both our own United States of America and in Vietnam, and an attempt to honor a very bright chapter in our own history as we welcomed tens of thousands of Vietnamese refugees to our shores in part of what may be properly called the true American Dream—to build a place where people from every conceivable background and every corner of the globe could thrive side-by-side, not based on shared ethnicity but based on a shared set of principles.

Today my colleague from the 3rd District and I are proud to welcome dozens of these “survivors of oppression,” and “champions of hope” to our chamber. And I, myself, am proud to host one of them who is particularly important to me—my wife of nearly 29 years, Margo, who was herself one of these Vietnamese who was evacuated from Saigon in the midst of its collapse, and arrived in America in a cardboard box on April 10, 1975.

No single statement could be more emblematic of what our country is all about than the recognition that she—and all those like her who came to our shores—is every bit as much an American as I am. And no single testament to the power and strength of the Vietnamese and American people standing together can exist than looking at the world my wife is helping to create and the children she has raised in this land, half a world away from where she was born in the midst of a grueling war.

Please join us to support all of our guests today—and to remember the tremendous struggles they have endured together—by recognizing April 21-27 as Black April Memorial Week.

Senator Chang's statement, in which Senator Damoose concurred, is as follows:

I want to thank my colleague and sponsor of this resolution for his partnership on this, and want to remind all of us that this Black April resolution is an opportunity for us to not only commemorate the fall of Saigon but truly to recognize the incredible resilience of the Vietnamese people and the Vietnamese community that is growing and strong right here in Michigan. During this time, it is so critical that we recognize all of our neighbors and all of those around us who have been through a lot of struggle and who have such a bright future ahead. We are so grateful for all of your sacrifice, and all of the contributions of the Vietnamese American community right here in Michigan as well.

Senators Camilleri, Cherry, Brinks, McDonald Rivet and Klinefelt offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 111.

A resolution to recognize April 28, 2024, as Workers' Memorial Day.

Whereas, Every year on April 28, communities and worksites around the world honor friends, family members, and colleagues who have been killed or injured on the job; and

Whereas, In 2022, The Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics estimated that 5,486 workers were killed by traumatic injuries on the job. On average, a worker died every 96 minutes from a work-related injury; and

Whereas, In Michigan, 139 workers were lost through fatal workplace accidents in 2022; and

Whereas, It is appropriate to honor the memory of the courageous and dedicated members of Michigan's labor force who have been injured or disabled or have died as a result of workplace accidents; and

Whereas, It is necessary to recognize the integrity of Michigan's workforce and its achievements on behalf of the economic growth of our state; and

Whereas, We remember those who have died in workplace catastrophes, suffered occupational-related diseases, or have been injured due to dangerous conditions; and

Whereas, We renew our effort to seek stronger workplace safety and health protections, better standards and enforcement, and fair and just compensation. We rededicate ourselves to improving both safety and health in every workplace; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body recognize April 28, 2024, as Workers' Memorial Day. We pay tribute to the workers who have died or been injured or disabled in workplace accidents; and be it further

Resolved, That we urge all citizens to recognize and honor the contributions of Michigan's workforce and call for increased workplace safety standards.

Pursuant to Joint Rule 20, the full title of the act shall be inserted to read as follows:

“An act to provide for the prevention of fires and the protection of persons and property from exposure to the dangers of fire or explosion; to authorize the investigation of fires and the discovery of crime or other offenses in relation thereto; to require the razing, repair, or alteration of buildings, and the clearing and improvement of premises which constitute a fire hazard or a menace to the peace, security, or safety of persons or property; to control the construction, use, and occupancy of buildings and premises in relation to safety, including fire safety; to provide for the certification of fire inspectors and the delegation of certain powers to those certified fire inspectors; to provide for the regulation of the storage and transportation of hazardous material; to provide for the issuance of certificates; to prohibit the use of certain fire extinguishers and fire extinguishing agents; to provide immunity from liability for certain persons; to provide for the administration and enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties; to provide for the promulgation of rules; to provide for the assessment of fees; and to repeal acts and parts of acts,”

The Senate agreed to the full title.

Senator Geiss asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Geiss’ statement is as follows:

I rise to speak in support of the substitute to House Bill No. 5527, which makes an already good and important bill even better. The S-3 expands AED access use beyond athletes and athletic programs, but to other school-sponsored programs. This means that programs such as marching band, which exists outside the football team and has practices at separate times from football practice, not to mention the other competitions, music festivals, and parades they participate and perform in, would not be excluded as the original text of the bill focused solely on athletic programs. With this substitute, our junior ROTC kids, marching band kids, color guard kids, drama club and theater kids, kids participating in non-physical but high-pressure activities like debate club and so many others, including their spectators, will now too have this important legal and medical protection. I am grateful for the policy team and the sponsor for getting this addition included.

The following bill was read a third time:

House Bill No. 5528, entitled

A bill to amend 1976 PA 451, entitled “The revised school code,” (MCL 380.1 to 380.1852) by adding section 1319.
