

MENTAL HEALTH CODE (EXCERPT)
Act 258 of 1974

330.1416 Mental health treatment; communication of patient rights; copies of written consent.

Sec. 416. Upon commencement of mental health treatment, the rights that the patient has during the mental health treatment, including the right to object to the mental health treatment, must be orally communicated to the patient and to the individual who executed the written consent. In addition, a copy of the written consent must be given to the patient and the individual who executed the written consent and to 1 other individual designated by the patient.

History: 1974, Act 258, Eff. Nov. 6, 1974;—Am. 1995, Act 290, Eff. Mar. 28, 1996;—Am. 2018, Act 595, Eff. Mar. 28, 2019.