

QUALITY RECOGNITION SYSTEM (EXCERPT)
Act 325 of 1978

38.1164 Committee; establishment by head of each department; appointment of members; review; report.

Sec. 4. (1) The head of each state department shall establish a committee with an uneven number of members who are employees of that state department and who shall be appointed by the head of that state department. The committee shall have no less than 3 members and not more than 11 members based on the need as determined by the head of the state department. The committee shall review the process improvements, value added behaviors, and the resulting recognition actions of significant impact that pertain to the operations of that state department.

(2) The committee without undue delay shall report to the recognition administrator concerning each process improvement and value added behavior reviewed and the resulting recognition action taken or recommended. Information to be contained in the report shall be established by the board.
